Caucus Will Precede Meeting Dentist Breaks Nose of Man He Charles A. Shortridge Said to and Conferees May Be Appointed to Compromise.

Be Allowed to Select Bridge Approach,

The City Council is almost sure & kill the $4,250,000 A. & M. free bridge grab when the amended Hines bill is returned this afternoon, and at a caucus precedwhether to appoint a committee of conferees to arrange a compromise with a similar committee of the House.

The first question under the rules will be, "Shall the Council concur in the A & M. amendments increasing the bond ssue to complete the bridge from $2,750,to $4,250,000; and, failing to concur, it will be in the power of the Council to file the bill or to confer with the House

Mayor Kiel was asked this morning if he had in mind any plans for completing the bridge. He said several plans were under consideration, but the situation had become so com-ted that it looked like the bridge o in the tax rate.

Plans Under Consideration.
One of the plans which the Mayor said was under consideration was this: For the Council, after it shall have defeated the A. & M. grab amendments to the original Hines bill, te ask for a conference committee with the House of Delegates. The conference committee to consider the advisability of submitting at a special election a bond issue for $4,250,000 or $4,500,000 without designating any approach.

"I am satisfied the Council is going to kill the amended Hines bill. That will make it necessary for some new bill to be introduced, and the fight probbill to be introduced, and the fight probably will be prolonged four or five weeks. I regret the Hines bill was defeated by the House of Delegates. If that had been passed, the bonds would undoubtedly have been voted, and the bridge question solved. It looks like now the approach will have to be built by a tax rate increase."

Councilman Paul Fletcher said that cil, he would introduce a resolution authorising the appointment of Comptroller Player, President Kinsey of the Board of Public Improvements and Frank H. Gerhart, with two other men to be selected by these three, to men to be selected by these three, to settle the bridge approach controversy. He will suggest Player, he said, because he is for the Reber approach; Gerhart because he is for his own northeast approach, and Kinsey because he is for the Alton & Mississippi approach. A poll of the Council, Thursday, after Mayor Kiel's flop to the A. & M. scheme became known, showed only two members standing openly for the A. & M. and eight determined not to vote for the House amendments.

The few A. & M. supporters in the Council, realizing their weakness, are fostering a compromise plan under known by all, a perventage of those paying excess fares and excess rates which a bond issue of £250,000 would be suggested for the construction of the Illinois highway approach and the this proposal a new bridge arb

NORFOLK, Va., Jan. 30.—Bearing 85 survivors of the wreck of the Old Dominion liner Monroe, and the death story of 49 others, the Merchants' and Miners' steamship, Nantucket, came into port here at 1:30 p. m. today. The survivors brought a story of suffering and sudden death from the sea.

The Monroe and the Nantucket collided in a dense fog and the Monroe sank within 10 minutes. Twenty-five passengers and 24 of the crew were lost and 30 passengers and 55 of the crew teamer docked, told the newspaper men on the wharf that the Nantucke aked and rammed the Monroe in a dense fog, at 2 a. m. today, and tha the Monroe careened and turned turtle 10 or 12 minutes afterward. As the Monroe turned on her side, some of the passengers and crew crawled over or her upper side and walked on this until finally washed off as the steam; turned over and sank.

With a heavy canvas covering her crumpled bow and with a partially shifted cargo, causing a list to starboard, the Nantucket docked while several thousand people waited for the survivors.

Luecke said Miss Dodge's connection with the business had ceased, and that he had employed a man and wife to help him in running the place, and to take charge if he should have another attack of the illness from which he has iffered for several weeks.

When Luecke, who was just out of St. Luke's Hespital, went to the store Thursday afternoon and demanded that Miss Dodge return the property to him, she telephoned for a policeman. Luecke went away before the policeman arrived, but later he returned with a awyer, and it was then, he says, that the deed retransferring the property was drawn up and signed.

"I told Miss Dodge," said Luecke in telling of the interview, "that I was so fil, at the time I signed the deed, as not to know what I was doing, and that I intended to see whether a deed drawn inder such conditions would stand the test of law. Certainly I had no intention of deeding my property over to anybody.

"This transaction has also made trou le between me and my brothers. hope now that they will understand and will drop their litigation against me." CONSCIENCE DEBT PAID

Nathan Fleishmann, proprietor of a store at Nineteenth and E streets, Granlite City, Friday received a letter, inclosing 25 cents, dated at Fortsmouth, O., and signed with the name of Sam Maler, who wrote: "Inclosed you will find 25 cents for tie clasp, as I want to git right with God. I hope you will forgive me. Answer soon."

Fleishmann had not missed the tie clasp, but he recently displayed some on a counter. He will forward his forgiveness.

Charles B. Carroll, an East St. Louis attorney, has returned from a tour of the counties in the southern part of the State, in which he circulated anti-prohibition resolutions. Petitions condemning the Hobson, Sheppard and Works national-wide prohibition resolutions introduced in Congress will be forwarded to Senators Sherman and Lewis and Congressman Baltz.

in Spring; Fruit Expected.

A dozen large, healthy banana plants are thriving in the basement of the home of M. C. Harney, 172 North Thirty-sixth street, East St. Louis, awaiting the coming of spring, to be transplanted in the garden. There Harney expects them to bear fruit. Last summer, according to Harney, two of the plants in his front yard grew to a height of 12 feet and-bore fruit, some of which matured.

Harney is 75 years old and lives with his daughter, Mrs. S. P. Daniels. For many years he was in the book business in St. Louis. He now spends his time caring for his plants, and is planning to experiment with other tropical fruits. He will get some date palms from Southern Texas to see if he can succeed in raising them as he has the bananas. He thinks he may be able to develop hardy varieties.

Harney's first banana plant was brought from Mexico four years ago, and the 12 plants he now has are off-shoots from the original.

Mentale Exercises.

Twelve girls and seven boys, the graduating class of the East St. Louis High School, received diplomas Thursday night at commencement exercises held in the school auditorium. The address to the class was made by State Senator W. D. Piercy of Mount Vernon, and the presentation of the diplomas was by D. W. Potts, Superintendent of Schools, and B. H. Canby, president of Education.

The graduates are: Misses Harriette G. M. Masters, Anita M. Klaus, Catherine V. Cowin, Lillie E. Koch, Margaret K. Miller, Goldle G. Mitchell, Bession M. Grimes, Mildred I. Schroeder, Gertrude M. A. Sullivan, Emma C. Oehler, Ruby M. Rhodes, Rose A. Troy and Ernest R. McHale, Harry L. Fletchershoots from the original.

Says Second One Is Needed.

D. W. Potts, superintendent of the East St. Louis public schools, advocates another high school. He said that after next week there would be 600 pupils, 140 classes and only 29 teachers in the present building. It was impractical, he said, to care for all the work in the building, because of its small size.

The subject of a new school will be discussed by the Board of Education Monday night.

Division of Departments for Commissioners Outlined by Selden P. Spencer.

A tentative plan for the Board of Pub lic Improvements to be provided for by the new city charter was outlined to the Board of Freeholders Thursday night. The outline was presented by former Judge Selden P. Spencer, a mem ber of the committee, appointed to consider the question.

Under the plan outlined the board would be comprised of six members and a president. The members would be: 1. A Street Commissioner, having charge of streets, sewers and harbor and wharves.

charge of all engineering, construction and extension work of the water de-

2. Public Utilities Commission ing charge of all public utilities operated in the city, and general supervision over all utilities owned and operated by corporations or individuals.

4. A Commissioner of Public Welfare, 4. A Commissioner of Public Welfare, having control of the jail and other corrective institutions, parks, bathing pools and the sociological work of the city.

5. A Building Commissioner, having charge of the building department, fire department and fire prevention depart-

6. A Health Commissioner, having nuisances, epidemics, etc.
7. A president, who should be the head of the board.

Committee to Draft Article.
A committee comprised of Louis P.
Aloe, Clinton E. Udell, Samuel Rosenfeld, F. N. Judson, Selden P. Spencer and Edward Flad was appointed by Chairman McDonald to work these ideas into the form of a charter article and present them to a subsequent meeting Whether the commissioners constituting the Board of Public improvements all should be engineers, or the heads of certain departments only should be engineers, was debated by the board. The impression seemed to prevail that most of the commissioners should be ability, and that it was not important that they should be engineers, as they could employ engineers to do the work Freeholder Rowe objected to the street and sewer departments being consolida-ted. He said each department was important enough to require a separate

The lawyer members declared that the question of taxing school property had been fixed by the State laws, and that the Freeholders could not take up the subject.

Ward the Broad at Meeting.

Linn R. Brokaw, member of the House of Delegates from the Twenty-eighth ments and others were criticised at a meeting of citizens of the 4600 block on Cates and Clemens avenues held at the ens avenue, Wednesday night, for al-lowing an ordinance to be passed, forcing the citizens of those blocks to have an alleyway constructed in the rear of their residence. The ordinance was passed last October.

Resolutions will be presented to the House of Delegates in an effort to have the ordinance repealed. The resoluti states that the majority of property holders in the block were opposed to an alley, and that "three of the minority used their influence toward securing passage of an ordinance requiring an alley to relieve conditions in their own private premises, and for the further age, instead of using their own prem

The attention given to cleanly, sanitary conditions in the Kroger stores and the Kroger Bakeries was brought very forcibly to the attention of the consuming public by the high ratings given to all Kroger stores that have been inspected to date. This is indeed an achievement, one which every Kroger store displaying the White List Card will live up to. The State Pure Food Commissioner, working in connection with authorized representatives of the Consumer's' League, inspected very thoroughly; in fact, we do not know of any other single agency that works more for the good of the consuming public than these impartial, trained investigators, and that the Kroger stores, after having the 'acid test" applied, came through with high success is indeed a compliment to an organ-that the merchant who is permitted to display these is doing his utmost to supply you with pure, fresh, food products. Down Go Prices for Saturday's Big Special Sale. These Prices Effective 4 P. M. on Friday and Remain in Effect Until Closing Time Saturday.

POSLAM'S RARE HEALING POWER AMAZES ALL

Missouri's Tall Author, Now of New York, Finds Gap to Be Filled in Library.

ON WAY AROUND WORLD

Stops in St. Louis a Day and Runs Up to Maryville to Let Home Foll See Him.

Homer Croy of Nodaway County, Mo., and Broadway, New York, left St. Louis Thursday night, carrying a clean new which he expects to bring pasted over like a billboard with steam ship and hotel labels. He says he is In New York, Croy is known as the

In New York, Croy is known as the Missouri humorist. As New York could hardly be expected to allow Missouri more than one humorist, this amounts to an ignoring of Lee Shippey of Higginsville and George Henry Scruton of Sedalia, and of the St. Louis and Kansas City paragraphers who daily exude so many smileful little wheezes and whinnies. Croy holds the title of humorist in somewhat the same way that a certain side show freak once held the title of dwarf. When spectators complained that the dwarf was almost as tall as they were, the manager would reply, "Sure he's the tallest dwarf in the world."

Most Serious Humorist. So, it might be said. Croy is the most serious humorist in the world. For gravity, both in speech and in his writings, he has the late Bill Nye lashed to a pillar. Yet, on occasion, he can display a regular thanking-you-one-andall smile.

It was said of an earlier Homer that seven cities fought for the honor of being his birthplace. No such contention will ever arise in Missouri over Homer Croy. Maryville has the honor cinched, and she will defend it as she would defend the Nodaway County Courthouse a county-seat war.

Once in the dear, dead days beyond recall, also beyond the initiative and referendum, Croy attended the University of Missouri at Columbia. In his student days there sprung into being the Quo Vadis Club. This was Croy's one best joke, and it remains as his memorial among the university boys to this day.

The members of the Q. V. were supposed to scorn the "plush" in traveling. and to have hobo-like adeptness in rid-ing the "rods." While not all their tales were verified by brakemen's affidavits, it has been stated on good authority that one of these bold spirits once tried to dodge a passenger conductor on the Wabash branch between Centralia and Columbia, and was put off at Hallsville, the first stop. With lively imagi-nations, a few such adventures can be made to go a long way.

Stories of Hungry Days.

In his university days, Croy became a contributor to Fuck. That periodical. long a ruling barber-shop favorite, has of late years gone into a decline, and was sold the other day to some Socialist publishers. Some have dated the decay of Puck from the time when the safety razor came into general use, but Croy makes no bones about saying that Puck ned away in trying to absorb some of those jokes of his. He wrote stories for the magazine stamps for the transmission and return of his manuscript, to keep the Postoffice Department from having a deficit. He got to a point where the very sight of a mail carrier made his teeth ache, and then he decided to save postage by going to New York. He has been there ever since.

To hear Croy tell of it, breakfast got To hear Croy tell of it, breakfast got to be merely a memory, lunch an ac-cident, and dinner a rare and festal event, in the first few weeks in New York—but that sounds like those Quo Vadis stories, and must be taken with a sprinkling of sodium chloride. We have had some Presidents lately who were not born in log cabins, and perhaps we shall get over the idea that a succeasful writer must, in his early days.

He Looks Up China.

Croy has had a job, in press agant and magazine lines, most of the time that ha has been in New York, and has lately been starred in the Leslie publications. Several months ago, he now relates, he had occasion to visit the Public Library in search of a book on China.

"I found a row of 35 books on China," he says, "all heavy tomes, with serious titles—"China and the Chinese," 'Awak-ening of China," 'China in Revolution, and the like. But there was not one 'Oh, You China!' or anything of that sort. I then and there resolved to write a humorous book on China, and I expect to make my fortune with it." Looking for Funny Sights. China will be one of his first stops ter he leaves San Francisco on a ship named the Soniething-or-other Maru. He expects to be accompanied by a moving picture camera man, who will take views of things which Croy may con-views of things which Croy may consider funny enough.

Croy intends to keep away from tourist agencies and the sights they exploit. He does not mean to go to Paris or London at all, and he is doubtful about Rome. He believes there are enough funny things in foreign lands, if one knows how to look for them, to set people a-snicker from Nodaway to Broadway. He will stop off a few days at his home town of Maryville to see the folks and let them see him.

According to the statements given out by the magnates of "Organized Baseball," the pregate increase in salaries to the boys who have stuck to the big show and sent in their contracts is upward of $100,000.

In addition to this 20 players, who are rapidly nearing the end of their careers, have been given three-year contracts. And still the magnates advise the players that the Federal League is a dangerous thing for them to even think about!

This time Gotch states that he and his wife have arrived at the conclusion that he will never, no, never, go to the mat again. But the right offer has been known to alter the conviction of even the most obdurate of housewives.

Too Many Surgical Operations.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

It is not the quack that is doing the greatest month than should be performed in a year. The "ethical" doctors today are practicing medicine with the knife; they advise operations for almost every ache or pain (if the patient has money), for it is more profitable. It takes many office calls, or outside visits, to earn a hundred dollars, and government based on ward lines, a government then wait for the pay; while by urging an operation, the surgeon's fee of from $100 to $1000 is either paid in cash or guaranteed and this fee is equally divided between the "ethical" surgeon and the "ethical" physician, who has the confidence of the patient, when both surgeon and physician snew the operation was not necessary.

Page 2 law limiting the fee for surgical operation. It may be well for young and ambitious political snew the operation was not necessary.

Pass a law limiting the fee for surgical opera-tions to 525, and prohibit fee splitting and there will not be more than one case found requiring surgical interference where there are 10 today. hysicians seldom find surgical interference necessary in patients of only moderate means. Few people require the surgeon, except where surgeon needs practice. The public are being misled by the cry of "Stop quack," and if the Post-Dispatch would start an investigation among the strictly "ethical" physicians it could do a great service to humanity. Save our people from the "ethical" surgeon" and his advertising agent, the "ethical" family physician. A PHYSICIAN.

THE CORE OF THE CHARTER.

Overshadowing in importance all else that may written into the proposed new city charter are: 1. The clauses creating the legislative and excutive departments of the Government.

2. The clauses defining and declaring the city's rporate powers.

The city needs a strong, honest, modern-minded government, responsible to the people through get a couple of hard slams from the Zeitgeist.

the initiative, referendum and recall. The ward system as a basis for such a government is utterly discredited by the experience of all large American cities. Members of the government must represent not wards but the city as a whole. The Freeholders, voting informally to propose a one-the free bridge. While appreciating the sin-be nominated and elected at large, but no two Republic is wrong because there is no need for from the same ward," have gone astray. It is selecting another approach. The bridge question not yet too late for them to reconsider, and propose the only form of government to which the people can safely intrust the large powers which it amounts to this: hroughout the world.

As a business institution, the people's muni-cipal business house, the city is today crippled by limitations of its corporate powers. For example, although it can and does operate an example, although it can and does operate an electric lighting plant to illuminate a few of its buildings, and produces current at a very low rate, it is not permitted, by the existing charter, to use this current to light its own streets, but must pay a much higher rate, for that service, to private companies which pro-duce and still gas and electricity. Nor can it sell its low-priced current to its citizen stock-holders, the owners of its playt. They, too, most buy current for lighting, heating, cook-ing and power from a private company, and must pay the higher rate.

The Freeholders can hardly do better, defining the powers of the city in the new charter, than to copy those clauses, in the charter voted on in 1910, by using the initiative. We have the land for in which it was declared:

"The Mayor and Council shall have a commission to answer that question power * * * to acquire, lease or oper- The duty of the Council is to reject the A. ate public utilities power * * * to issue bonds solely up. Council in this position with the full force of on the credit of, the income derived from, public opinion. If the House majority refuses to the city."

Those clauses would make the people's business house as free to serve them as any private corporation is to serve its stockholders. The city could harm, for more lives are sacrificed and health of more people ruined to satisfy the greed of the so-called ethical physicians. There are more surgical operations performed in St. Louis in one month than should be performed in a year. The buy the street railways, the gas and electric plants

MR. TAFT ON PLUTOCRACY.

Mr. Taft's analysis in speeches at Albany and Toronto of the "transition period" in which he had the greatest opportunity that can be presented an American is not without discernment. "We are in the aftermath of a struggle," he says, "in which we have escaped a plutocracy."

He fails to do justice to plutocracy's resource fulness. The fight is a longer and more serious affair than he appears to think. The time has not come yet when it is safe to relax vigilance against plutoratic aggressiveness.

Granting that plutocracy has been dealt heavy blows lately and that mighty influences have been set in motion that will restore government to the When the nurse comes to his side people for a generation, how much of it is due to Mr. Taft? He tells the Canadians to profit by our experience and, indeed, a warning on purblind foresight, wofully lacking the quality of hindsight, is given them in Mr. Taft's own administration.

Adopting Mr. Taft's precept on the duty to fight plutocracy, the Dominion can find in his practice the best example of how not to fight it. It must look to another master for guidance.

Now, all this happened in winter; and a New York, as elsewhere, winter rings snows and cold rains. Gwendolin rudged back and forth, back and forth, rem the theater to her little hall bedoom on the fourth floor, which was not on well heated, in shoes that were bejinning to be worn. She was not a carder in the house, or she might have ared better in the matter of eating; or when you are a boarder you can seep on eating—for a time, at least—nether you pay your board or not. Coreover, the more you owe her, the is likely is the landlady to forcibly lect you.

Gwendolin haunted the places where feed is cheap, or cooked a bite in her hall bedroom on a surreptitious one-burner gas stove. She hid bits of butter out on the window sill, where her neighbors across the street might see them and tell her landlady, one of whose rules was that there should be no cooking in the rooms. She put vials of thin milk on the window sill along with the butter. She concealed sardines and crackers in her clothes press, where the mice could get at them.

To the embryonic actress or balletigil who ekes out such meals by means of her friends' assistance, this might have been all very well; but when the six weeks of rehearsal were at an end, and the time approached when Gwendolin was to say her five lines and get paid for them, she was almost laid up where I am I walk just so much every day. Of course, it is pleasanter to walk in the country than in the city. But if I happen to be living in New York I make the best of it.

Often I have walked & blocks without a pause—two miles. Walking gives normal work to the body, and then it keeps one outdoors in the fresh air. I believe that more women would walk if it were not for their snobbishness. I am sure well-to-do women must tire of their inxurious motor cars. But they say to themselves, "What if my friends should see me walking along the sidewalk? They would think my husband had lost all his money."

Horseback riding is great fun and good for a woman if she doesn't overdo it. But there are many whe cannot afford to ride. And, really, if a choice were to be made between walking and riding the former would be more beneficial.

Dancing is a delightful exercise for women. It not only has a good effect on the health and therefore on beauty, but it increases grace. Then there are certain indoor exercises to be taken when none gets up in the morning before dressing which are excellent for the figure. I shall discuss them in greater detail when I give you special directions for the care of the figure.

When I was a little girl I played tennis and other games. But I truly believe that the woman who indulges too freely in violent sports losse that subtle feminine something which is the very fragrance of the flower of beauty.

Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—The Evening Post, in its copyrighted financial review, says:

"The New York stock market today showed the cumulative effect of what has been happening in the foreign situation and the late buying was broad throughout, with a sharp advance in all of the active shares.

"This strength was especially noticeable in such stocks as Union Paolific, United States Steel and Amalgamated Copper. The highest prices were touched in the last hour when trading became very active on the advance. Under this movement some of the stocks touched a very high level for the week. The market was strong throughout the day and except for a little hesitation around noon the tone was consistently firm.

"The strength here was similar to that shown by the principal foreign markets, the investment buying at Parisbeing reflected in a rise of 50 centimes in French rentes. At London, British consols advanced ½ to 76%, reacting later. There was also noteworthy strength at Berlin.

"This strength of foreign markets reflected the further lowering of discount rates, the decline on Lombard street being 's per cent for the day to 2 per cent; at Amsterdam, 1 1-16 to 4 3-16 per cent; at Amsterdam, 1 1-16 to 4 3-16 per cent; and at Paris, ½ to 8½ per cent.

"Today's decline at rans carned discounts there to the lowest level touched since the second week of October, 1912.

"At Berlin discounts were ½ higher at 3½ per cent. The feature of the recovery throughout Europe was the broad buying of investment shares. Trading here continued active until the close.

"The market reflected broad buying by savings banks and insurance companies. This inquiry may have been in anticipation of the paying off next women with the matter of the paying off next women with the matter of the paying off next women with the matter of the paying off next women with the matter of the paying off next women with the matter of the savings banks at the time that the State was forced to pay nearly 5 per cent for an 5-months loan.

"With the maturity of this issue it is natural for those institutions to relinvest the proceeds of the loan without delay.

"In this respect the present situation is quite remarkable, in that many of the note issues falling due within the next few months represent short term issues put out by States and cities and belonging to the class of securities in which savings banks and life insurance companies are allowed to invest.

"For that reason the investment markets are likely to be helped at irregular intervals by the sort of reinvestment demand which usually follows the maturity of such loans.

"This increase of investment buying, together with the offering this week of $35,000,000 in new bond issues, is likely to figure prominently in the loan account tomorrow.

"Forecasts of the currency movement indicated a gain for the week of $11,622,000 by the clearing house banks, as against an indicated gain last week of $30,648,000.

"There is likely to be some addition to surplus, unless the loan increase should again reach extraordinary figures, which it is not likely to do in view of the unprecedented expansion shown last Saturday.

"There were signs that Paris would take more gold here next week and last Saturday.

"There were signs that Paris would take more gold here next week and that a $3,000,000 engagement would be arranged for as usual on Monday. There was no particular change to money or foreign exchange rates, but the tendency of both markets was towards a lower level of quotations."

Railways Preferred Steady at $38.50; Bank Issues Are Neglected.

The investment demand fell away sharply at the early session of the local Stock Exchange Friday, only a few issues being brought into the active trading and the price range showing irregularity. The traction shares were steady.

United Railways preferred stock sold at unchanged figures at $38.50, but was offered at that price with final bids at $38. The common shares were unchanged at $11.75 bid and offers at $12.25. The 4s gained a fraction at $71.634, bid and $72 asked.

National Bank of Commerce stock was wanted at $130 and was offered at $131. Other bank and trust shares were neglected.

The miscellaneous list was steady. Bonds were firm on the issues quoted.

St. Louis Money Market.

A prominent Canadian banker, speaking in regard to the Canadian situation at this time, gives out the following statement: "Canada experienced recently the denial of the usual supply of foreign capital, which she has been in the habit of receiving the last lo or 15 years, but her crops last year were bountiful, and the deprivation of this foreign financial aid was scarcely felt.

"But there is a slowing down of prices noticeable there now, just as there is all over the world, and money rates are much easier than they were."

Producer to Consumer. 'DOWN WITH THE HIGH COST OF LIVING!"

sweeping through the land. How to DO IT is the PROBLEM. All eyes are on the FARMER and the Producer—they are the ones the Producer—they are the ones to SOLVE the TABLE end of it. How? By shipping DIRECT to the CONSUMER. All the FARMER and the PRODUCER and the CONSUMER have to do is GET TOGETHER. This can is GET TOGETHER. This can be accomplished within twentyfour hours through this "FARM to TABLE"—producer to consumer—column in the Post-Dispatch. The FARMER or PRODUCER ADVERTISES that which he HAS FOR SALE; the CONSUMER READS these add and arranges to BUY, BOTH MAKE MONEY, And the HIGH COST OF TABLE LIVING is at COST OF TABLE LIVING is at an END. It all depends upon YOU, MR. FARMER and Mr. Producer!

One million people in and around St. Louis have to be fed at least three times a day. They are eager for fresh, wholesome food at reasonable prices. MR. FARMER OR MR. PRODUCER: WHAT HAVE YOU TO SELL TO THESE ONE MILLION CONSUMERS! Tell them through this column. The dever-tisers herein are getting results, and so will you because this col-umn is read by the million people who are seeking the good things to eat which you may have to offer.

THAT LOST ARTICLE MAY NOT BE FOUND TODAY Or temorrow or next week. In fact, a month or more may elapse before it turns up. A little persistency may be necessary. Often the article remains unfound; often fear of prosecution or hope of more satisfactory row. Then the belated awakening of the finder's conscience explains many delays. But persistency and Post-Dispatch wants will usually recover a lost article, if an honest person finds it. The service of the Post-Dispatch Lost and Found Bureau is also enlisted in behalf of advertisera. (98)
